

MYSTERY REMAINS AS DARK AS EVER

More Clues in Disappearance of McCarrick Boy Run Down
Without Result.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Philadelphia, March 26.—More clues in the disappearance of little Warren McCarrick from his home just two weeks ago to-day, one founded on no more substantial substance than a dream, were run out to-day, and the mystery remains as dark as ever.

The first of the clues was that the boy had been recognized in a motor car driven by three men about 2 o'clock this morning. The former said that he knew Warren, and that the boy had seen him and waved to him.

Simultaneously came word from another source that a motor car answering the description of the one in which the boy was riding had been left at a local garage. The police found the car guarded 12 o'clock this morning. They looked up the owner, A. A. Berliner, manager of the Reading Eastern League basketball team, was located.

This morning an inspector of the United Gas Improvement Company called upon Captain Cameron, of the city detectives, and told him that his wife had dreamed several times that the boy was being held in a house near Seventeenth and Catherine Streets. Detectives were sent to the house, where the man said he had no admission. They looked up the owner of the premises, who let them in, but a thorough search revealed neither the missing boy nor anything suspicious.

TRIAL OF KOEHLER AGAIN IN PROGRESS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New London, Conn., March 26.—The court-martial of Major Benjamin M. Koehler, under arrest at Fort Terry, resumed at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, immediately after the return of Lieutenant Colonel Shum from New York.

The trial had been held up two days awaiting this officer, who was called away on account of serious illness in his family.

The afternoon session was secret, as usual, and lasted two and one-half hours, then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. Nothing could be learned as to what transpired. It is believed that a summary up is in progress, and a final adjournment will be reached to-morrow or Saturday.

A rumor was current at the fort and also in this city to-day that Major Koehler, who has been confined to Plum Island since his arrest a few weeks ago, had slipped by the night guards and escaped to New London on one of the steamers that brought a theatrical party here.

Captain Patten, who is temporarily in command at Fort Terry, informed a reporter to-night that the story of his sudden departure was absurd, as he is still residing with his sister at the officers' quarters.

YOU Can Play the Pianola Player-Piano

Simply insert a music-roll and the piano may be played without even touching the keys. The player is built in the case of the piano; thus the Pianola Player-Piano unites the two accepted modern methods of playing the piano: First, by hand. Second, by the Pianola. It is vitally important that the distinction be carefully noted between Pianola Player-Pianos and player-pianos of various makes. Come to our store and play the Pianola Player-Piano yourself.

HEAVY DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF LEG

Former Employee of Chesapeake and Ohio Is Given Verdict for $25,000.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., March 26.—A. P. Carahan, of this city, has received a verdict of $25,000 from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company for damages sustained by him on March 27, 1913. He was fireman on the engine which collided with some freight cars left unguarded on the main track. His leg was caught between the boiler head and the tender, and so severely injured that it was necessary to amputate above the knee. The case was tried in December last in the Circuit Court of Hanover County, under the employers' liability act of Congress for $25,000 damages. The case was tried on March 24, and Mr. Carahan received a verdict on which judgment has been entered for $25,000. This is perhaps the largest verdict for a similar injury that has ever been recovered in Virginia.

PRELIMINARY STEPS TAKEN FOR SALE OF PROPERTY

Lynchburg, Va., March 26.—Steps are being taken for a meeting of the creditors of the Piedmont Manganese Corporation with a view to appointing a trustee for the concern. This will be the first step necessary to the sale of the property. It is understood that the receivership in the Federal court at Richmond will be displaced by the bankruptcy proceedings, and F. W. Whitaker has qualified as receiver of the property until the selection of a trustee.

News of Fredericksburg.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fredericksburg, Va., March 26.—Miss Viola Abel and Miss Nettie Spilman will graduate as nurses from the Nurses Training School of the Mary Washington Hospital of this city, the graduating exercises, which will be public, to be held on Friday night in the auditorium of the city hall. An interesting program has been arranged and the address of the occasion will be delivered by Rev. E. C. Gilmore, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

It is said that the docket for the Circuit Court of Stafford County, which opens on April 6, is the largest in the history of the court. There are a number of civil cases and misdemeanors, and it is also a grand jury term. Many cases have been set for trial during this term.

During the session of the Circuit Court of Orange County this week, a handsome portrait of the late Colonel Garrett Scott, of Orange County, who was judge of that court from 1850 to 1876, was presented to the county in an elegant speech by W. W. Scott, of Gordonsville, a son of the former judge. The portrait will adorn the courthouse wall.

HQS. CHRISTIAN HAS PASSED AWAY

Funeral Services to Be Conducted From Residence To-morrow Afternoon.

THOMAS CHRISTIAN.

The funeral of Thomas Christian, widely known business man who died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at his home, 709 Seminary Avenue, Glinter Park, will be conducted to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock from the residence. He was sixty-eight years old.

Mr. Christian was the oldest child of Dudley Christian, Jr., of Richmond, who was Miss Ida Kate James, of Detroit, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. Charles G. Taylor, Jr., of Richmond. Mr. Christian had three sisters, all of whom live in this city: Miss Lizzie Christian, Miss Mary Christian and Mrs. George L. Christian.

For years Mr. Christian was identified with the commercial and public life of Richmond. He was engaged in business as a manufacturer's agent, with offices in Shockoe Slip. Scientific work possessed a strong fascination for him, and in the pursuit of several branches of research he won wide distinction. His experiments in the field of photography, and with the microscope, attracted attention on two continents.

His interests in life were broad and found expression in many phases. He was an ardent philatelist, and set together a notable collection of stamps. The collection of Indian and cotton pool was his hobby. He was also a member of the State commission of the New Orleans Exposition, and a moving spirit in the old State Fair organization.

CONTRACT IS GIVEN FOR NEW BUILDING

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Richmond, Va., March 26.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees of Agricultural and Mechanical College this evening, a contract for a rebuilding of the textile building was given to H. S. Toller, of Rocky Mount. The building is to be a two-story structure, with a total area of 10,000 square feet. The work is to be completed by August 1. What is left of the former building will be used in the reconstruction, but there will be changes in plans as well as enlargement. Manufacturers of textile machinery are again asked to contribute machinery for equipment.

Another "Movie" Planned.
Lynchburg, Va., March 26.—The purchase of a Main Street site by H. C. Elliott, of Roanoke, for the location of a motion picture theatre has been consummated. The purchase price is about $25,000. The plans for the theatre are being drawn here, and the construction will start as soon as occupants can be gotten out under sixty-day notice.

DEBATE IN SENATE ON SMITH MEASURE

Indications Are That Cotton Regulation Bill Will Be Radically Amended.

Washington, March 26.—Debate on the Smith Cotton Exchange regulation bill in the Senate to-day indicated that the measure would be radically amended before it passed. Senate leaders to-night said that, while prohibition of use of the measure in exchange dealing in futures for other than actual delivery would be retained in the bill, the section probably would be changed to make it apply to matters directly relating to future contracts.

Urging his amendments, broadening the bill's terms, Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, declared the so-called Cotton pool was a patriotic enterprise, entered into for the purpose of freeing those engaged in the legitimate business of trading in cotton from the influence of the New York Cotton Exchange. The men who formed that pool, he said, deserved commendation, and not indictment, as had been their fate.

Senator Randall defended legitimate future trading as the only means by which specific contracts for spot cotton between manufacturers and merchants could be made.

The bill and all substitutes and amendments under consideration would provide for the adoption by all cotton exchanges of the government standard of grading, in regulating future contracts. It is proposed that the actual commercial difference in value between the grade delivered and that called for on the "milling basis" provision of such contracts shall be the basis of settlement.

NO BODIES RECOVERED.

Fail to Come to Surface When Monroe Is Destroyed.

Norfolk, Va., March 26.—The submerged bulk of the Old Dominion liner Monroe, which sank off the Virginia coast on January 30, with a loss of two-score lives, was blown up early to-day by the revenue cutter Onondaga. Eight hundred and forty pounds of gun cotton was exploded in demolishing the wreck. Right hundred and forty pounds of gun cotton was exploded in demolishing the wreck. None of the bodies of the disaster's victims was found.

Captain Chawell, of the Onondaga, had been instructed to remove wreckage to a depth of forty-two feet. Fourteen mines were exploded, each containing sixty pounds of gun cotton. Diver examination showed no wreckage remained above a depth of fifty feet.

A thorough inspection here out reports of divers who previously had explored the wreck, and who said that all of the forty-one bodies that went down with the vessel had been swept away.

Officials Want Validity of 5 Per Cent Clause of Tariff Law Passed Upon.

Washington, March 26.—Administration officials are desirous of the validity of the 5 per cent clause of the present tariff law, granting a 5 per cent discount on goods imported in American duty shall be paid upon by the Supreme Court, and not by the Circuit Court of Appeals, now the final arbiter in the tariff cases.

Within the next few weeks a determined effort will be made in Congress to enact legislation which will give the Attorney General the Supreme Court on the Customs Court in important cases. Attorney General McMeekin has recommended such legislation, and members of the Judiciary Committee of both houses, it is understood, favor it.

The board of general appraisers in New York recently decided that the discount must be given a like duty on goods imported from New York, which would have the effect of granting a 5 per cent reduction on practically all goods imported into the country. The board held that the discount was applicable only to goods brought by American ships, and the importers have appealed to the Court of Customs Appeals on this point.

No appeal has been filed by the government, and it is expected that William L. Wren, of New York, who is in charge of the Customs Court, will take such action as he deems proper.

IN MEMORIAM
JONES—In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, A. C. JONES, who died two years ago to-day, March 27, 1912.

We watched his dear form fading, As the lonely days go by; Oh! we miss you, yes, we miss you, While the beautiful spring is nigh.

Dearest husband, how we miss you, Left the home you loved so well, But some day I hope to meet you, And together we shall dwell.

I have no home now, dear husband, Since that dreadful, fatal day, When the hinges so slowly Bore you down to the day.

BY HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.
WARREN—In memory of JOHN AUGUSTUS WARREN, who died March 27, 1908.

By his wife, LENA B. WARREN.
DUKE—In loving remembrance of my dear daughter, MARY MITCHELL DUKE, who died in Portland, Oregon, March 27, 1913, one year ago to-day.

In the far-away distant graveyard, Where the trees their branches wave, Lies the one I loved so dearly, In the cold and silent grave.

She is gone, but not forgotten, Fresh my love will ever be, For some day I hope to meet her, I will always think of thee.

Friends may think I'll soon forget, And my wounded heart be healed, But little they know the sorrow That is within my heart concealed. By her distressed mother, MRS. A. E. MITCHELL.
